STATEMENT

In this Fair Debt Collection Practices Act suit, plaintiff Edward Day moved to decertify the class and for an entry of judgment awarding statutory damages, attorney fees, and costs. (Doc. 80.) The court granted in part Day's motion by decertifying the class and awarding statutory damages of $1,000. (Doc. 90 at 1-4.) As to attorney fees, the court held that Day's counsel's hourly rates were reasonable, as were the number of hours billed. (Id. at 4-6.) However, the court held that Day's attorneys were not entitled to fees for any hours spent on class certification or related matters. (Id. at 5-6.) The court also ordered Day to provide documentation for his claimed costs. (Id. 90 at 6.)

Day filed an Amended Motion in which he seeks $57,279 in attorney fees, less than the $66,910 he previously requested. (Doc. 91.) Defendants do not raise any objections to this new amount other than to renew their request that the total be reduced by $36,417. (See Doc. 93.) The court previously concluded that defendants' request was unsupported (Doc. 90 at 5-6), and defendants appear to have largely copied and pasted the argument from their original brief (compare Doc. 87 with Doc. 93). Defendants do not raise any objections to Day's claimed costs of $2,393.77, which are now supported by attached receipts.

Accordingly, the court awards Day his claimed attorney fees and costs. The court enters judgment in the amount of $1,000 in statutory damages, $57,279 in attorney fees, and $2,393.77 in costs.
